Welcome Address

Dear guests,

It is with great pleasure that I welcome you to Cyprus, at the Informal Meeting of Ministers responsible for EU Cohesion Policy. A policy set high in priority from the very beginning of our Presidency, being considered as an investment to the future of the Union.

Having assumed the Presidency of the Council of the EU at this exceptionally difficult time for Europe and its citizens, still suffering from the effects of an unprecedented economic crisis, the Cyprus Presidency is working towards delivering a Better Europe for the next generations.

Being at a crucial point regarding the negotiations on the proposed financial and regulatory framework for Cohesion Policy in 2014-2020, the Ministerial Meeting will aim at exchanging views on how the proposed new elements, currently under discussion by the EU institutions, will enhance the effectiveness of Cohesion Policy. A more integrated and results oriented approach is envisaged under the proposed framework for Cohesion Policy for the next programming period, aiming to effectively deliver the best possible results from the use of the Funds, with the highest possible value added for the Union and its citizens. The importance of Cohesion Policy in creating jobs and delivering growth in the Union will be part of our debate as well as the quality of spending and the governance of the Policy.

The outcome of the discussions during this Ministerial meeting, along with the results from the ongoing discussions at the Council's Working Party, will be presented at the General Affairs Council.

I welcome you all to the Filoxenia Conference Center where I am convinced that we will have a productive and effective meeting. Let me close by sharing with you once more our vision for Europe which, in line with the concept of the word Filoxenia, is defined as a welcoming place, a space of law, quality of life, culture and shared values.

Sincerely yours,

Andreas D. Mavroyiannis
Deputy Minister to the President for European Affairs

4.1. Head of Delegation and Delegates travelling with them

Assigned Liaison Officers will welcome the Heads and their delegations and have an overview of the formalities procedure.

Both upon arrival and departure at Larnaka International Airport (LCA), all members of the delegation travelling with the Head of delegation will receive VIP treatment at Skylink VIP lounge, which is situated next to the main airport building. All formalities are arranged in the VIP lounge. Use of the special suitcase tags sent with the invitation would facilitate the process.

In the case that arrival or departure is at Pafos International Airport (PFO) the Heads and their delegation will be welcomed in the business lounge, where formalities will be arranged.

VIP transport will then be provided to the hotel. The head of delegation will be transferred by car. The liaison officer will accompany the head of delegation and sit at the front next to the driver. The rest of the delegation will be transferred by a separate car or mini bus.

4.2. Delegates not travelling with their Head of Delegation

Delegates not travelling with their Head of Delegation will pass through the normal check in / check out and customs procedures. The Cyprus Presidency also provides free transport from Larnaka International Airport (LCA) to the hotels designated for the Meeting. For this purpose buses will depart from the airport at specified times.

More information can be found at the Cyprus Presidency Information Points at Larnaka International Airport (LCA). The meeting point for the free transport to the hotel is located close to the bus departure exit of the airport (at arrivals).

Free transportation by bus will also be provided from the designated hotels to Larnaka International Airport (LCA) after the end of the meeting and on the following day.

5. Transportation

Cyprus Presidency provides free transport by bus at a specified time from the designated hotels to the meeting venue. A similar arrangement applies for the return to the hotels at the end of the meeting. Bus departure times are available at the hotels and the meeting venue. 6. The City of Nicosia (more than 1000 year old capital)

Situated in the middle of the island Nicosia is a busy modern commercial and business centre. The city centre is its old quarter, a jumble of narrow streets with sandstone buildings with overhanging balconies and inner courtyards. The old quarter is surrounded by a sandstone fortress wall with a moat and heart-shaped bastions.

The Cyprus Museum houses the best collection of archaeological artefacts on the island, including a first century AD Roman statuette of Aphrodite of Soli and the original mosaic of Leda and the Swan, while the Leventis museum depicts the history of the town. St John's Cathedral, with its frescoes is a marvelous museum of byzantine icons.

Nicosia Town Hall

In the evening someone may stroll in the old city, feel the cool breeze coming from Troodos Mountain and even catch a concert in the moat or an exhibition at the Famagusta Gate, one of the three original entrances into the old city, which has now been restored and is used as a cultural centre.

Local Time

Cyprus Time is GMT +2.

Climate & Weather

The island's climate is characterised by hot summers and mild winters, with temperatures reaching their highest in July and August.

November is the month when the weather in Cyprus breaks from warm autumn towards colder winter, especially after mid-November when temperatures begin to drop noticeably and the rainy season starts. The average maximum temperatures in November range between 11°C (night) and 22°C (daytime), while the sea water temperature reaches values of approx. 21°C.

Recommended clothes for November are medium-weight apparel and a light pullover or jacket for the evening.

What to drink during the months of autumn in the European-Mediterranean isle of Cyprus?

Well, because during the autumn months in Cyprus the weather is still warm and sunny you should refresh yourself with plenty of water from the crystal Cypriot sources of Troodos mountains. So far and when the evening approaches you may select to broaden your wine horizons with a vibrant rosé wine from the latest harvest of the indigenous Maratheftiko grape variety. You may also choose to make a degustation of a vivacious white Xynisteri wine, both served crispy at around 10°C in a tulipshaped glass. Do not miss the chance to discover some round and velvet red options made from the native Maratheftiko and Lefkada varieties preferably let to be breathe for some time in a decanter. You may also decide on exploring more the Cyprus terroir and feel the experience provided by Commandaria. This is the flagship of the Cyprus wine sector. It is an exceptional and great naturally sweet wine made from sun-dried grapes, which should be served at 8-10°C in an inverse bell-shaped glass either before, during or after-dinner”.
